Description
Provide a short description of the event and its activities.
How is the EU membership perceived among Hungarians beyond the “stay or leave” dilemma? What are the areas where Hungarians perceive the EU to have too much power and what are the areas where they demand further integration? What do people think about migration after years of full-speed state propaganda against migration? To what extent is the climate crisis taken seriously by people in a political environment where there is barely any discussion about such an urgent issue (and to the extent there is, it is almost always in the context of energy security)?

In the first part of our citizens’ consultations, we tried to find answers to the questions above. The consultations were carried out in the form of in-person individual interviews with citizens in the four countries, and with additional online participants. In order to gather the feedback from the citizens, we prepared a set of questions on the topics of EU, climate and migration, which the participants on both the in-person and online interviews answered. During the in-person interviews there was additional time dedicated to the feedback and questions of the citizens – which varied from input to the topics, the format to the questions on the project and its goals as a whole.

During a presentation on the 17th of April, 2023 we discussed the results with the general public. As the first part of the event, we presented the project, which was followed by visualizing our results through charts. Thanks to some interesting or rather unexpected findings, a dynamic and active discussion took place among participants and presenters. After the presentation and the discussion, we also gave the chance to the participants to ask further questions and to debate the topics.
